Transform Your Leadership Skills with Neuro-Leadership!

Neuro-Leadership refers to the application of findings from neuroscience to the field of leadership. Conversational Intelligence (C-IQ®) is the intelligence hardwired into every human being to enable us to navigate successfully with others. There is no more powerful skill hardwired into every human being than the wisdom of conversations.

This training was developed from years of executive coaching and mentoring, research into high performance cultures, and in-depth training in the neuroscience of employee engagement as well as conversational intelligence certification. It can be applied to three key areas:

- Individuals – Neuro-Leadership empowers the individual to better equip themselves by understanding how their brain works and the impact they have on themselves and others as a result
- Teams – for anyone leading teams or clients, understanding the impact and knowing how to influence positive outcomes through building trust is essential
- Organizations – for those leading entire organizations, they can strategically work in a way that delivers results by understanding key human drivers and behaviors as well as the positive influences of increasing levels of trust, engagement, and building a high performance culture
